GIRLS! GIRLS! TRY IT!
STOP DANDRUFF AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR.
Hair Stops Falling Out and Gets Thick, Wavy, Strong and Beautiful.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Dandierine hair cleanse." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Dandierine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.
Besides beautifying the hair at once, Dandierine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.
But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandierine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.—Adv.

PRESIDENT FOR PREPAREDNESS

Change Nothing in America, But Safeguard Everything in America.

Washington, Oct. 6.—President Wilson, at the first gathering of the new navy advisory board, announced himself to-day in favor of having the United States adequately prepared for "defense to command the respect of other nations for our rights." Later it became known that the President plans to make "for defense" the basis of advocacy of a stronger army and navy, and that he will outline his views more specifically before the convening of Congress.

The President welcomed the members of the advisory board at the White House, congratulating them on beginning their work. Previously the board had met at the Navy Department, with Chairman Thomas A. Edison presiding, and listened to an address by Secretary Daniels. Later they took a trip down the Potomac river on the Presidential yacht Mayflower to the Indian Head gun proving grounds. One of the sights witnessed there was the firing of the navy's most modern weapon, a 14-inch 50-calibre gun. A newly designed machine rifle also was brought into action.

President's Views.

"There is very little that I can say to you," the President said, "except to give you a very cordial welcome and to express my very great pleasure in this association of laymen with the government. But I do want to say this:

"I think the whole nation is convinced that we ought to be prepared, not for war, but for defense, and very adequately prepared, and that the preparation for defense is not merely a technical matter; it is not a matter that the army and navy alone can take care of, but a matter in which we must have the co-operation of the best brains and knowledge of the country, outside the official service of the government as well as inside. For my part, I feel that it is only in the spirit of a true democracy that we get together to lend such voluntary aid—the sort of aid that comes from interest, from a knowledge of the varied circumstances that are involved in handling a nation.

"I want you to feel, those of you who are coming to the assistance of the professional officers of the government, that we have a very serious purpose; that we have not asked you to associate yourself with us except for a very definite and practical purpose, to get you to give us your best independent thoughts as to how we ought to make ready for any duty that may fall upon the nation.

Spirit of America.

"I do not have to expound it to you; you know as well as I do the spirit of America. The spirit of America is one of peace, but one of independence. It is a spirit that is profoundly concerned with peace, because it can express itself best only in peace. It is the spirit of peace and good will and of human freedom; but it is also the spirit of a nation that is self-conscious, that knows and loves its mission in the world, and that knows that it must command the respect of the world.

"So it seems to me that we are not working as those who would change anything of America, but only as those who would safeguard everything in America. I know that you will enter into conferences with the officers of the navy in that spirit and with that feeling, and it makes me proud, gentlemen, that the busy men of America, the men who stand at the front of their professions, should be willing in this way to associate themselves voluntarily with the government in the task in which it needs all sorts of expert and serious advice. Nothing ought to be done in this by any single group of persons—everything ought to be done by all of us united together—and I welcome this association in the most serious and grateful spirit."

Strain Affects Charlton.

Como, Italy, Oct. 6.—Porter Charlton, whose trial was postponed yesterday until October 18, showed signs of extreme nervous depression during the night, and the prison physician was summoned to attend the American who killed his wife.
It was stated that Charlton's condition was not serious, but that he would have to be closely watched.

The Colds of Mankind Cured by Pines

GREECE'S DEBT TO AMERICA.

"Her Debt to America is and Will Be Unpayable."

The following statement was made to the Associated Press correspondent at Athens Tuesday by M. Venizelos before his resignation as premier, and was filed at the Greek capital a short time before the unexpected change in the situation took place.

The Greek Policy.

Athens, Oct. 5.—At the close of a decisive meeting of the Greek Chamber last evening and early this morning, Premier Venizelos gave the Associated Press a statement of the policy Greece would pursue in the impending Balkan conflict.

"One thing is absolutely certain," said M. Venizelos, "Greece will abide by the terms of the alliance with Serbia not only in letter, but in spirit, to the last man and the last drachma. The Greco-Serbian treaty foresaw only the possibility of a Balkan war. When it was made none could predict the present European conflict with its widespread complications. But the spirit of alliance was one of mutual defense and because the dangers threatened our ally increased with unforeseen conditions there is no excuse for hiding behind the verbiage of the treaty to escape the responsibility of our pledge.

Greece to Remain True.

"Though the entire available forces of the central Empires be added to those of Bulgaria in an attempt to crush Serbia, Greece will unflinchingly remain true to her passed word. The honor of Greece is at stake. You may be certain it will not be betrayed.

"Nor, indeed, has there ever been at the bottom the slightest wavering about the Greek people respecting their responsibility to enter the war in defense of their ally under the terms of alliance, although every desperate effort has been made to belaud the issue. The spectacle of part of her press subservient to foreign influences has shamed and humiliated Greece. A people so eager to read—so much so that every boot-black while he shines your shoes is reading a book or newspaper—has been temporarily confused by an insipid and vengeful propaganda. But the feeling of loyalty to our national obligations never for a moment has been really affected. What Greece has said she will do, she will do. She is ready to fight, and if Serbia needs her she will fight.

"Respecting the landing of French troops at Saloniki there is but one thing to be said. We have protested, of course, for we have wished to remain neutral in this European struggle, and we wish it now if it were consistent with our rights and duties. But the Greek people cannot war on France, and wouldn't if they could. What France has done for Greece no Greek can forget. Comes now France, asking nothing of Greece, declaring categorically her sole intention is to support Greece's ally in the case of a need wherein Greece herself would be bound to support her neighbor. It is something offered, not something asked. Indeed, since I have been premier I may say quite frankly the entente has asked not one concession of Greece. Therefore, when France gives every guarantee respecting the integrity of Greece, when France's motives for landing troops on Greek soil are explained as in the nature of accomplishing the very purpose of Greece's treaty of alliance with Serbia, we can see no reason why Greece should resist what she cannot help and what ultimately cannot fail to be to her advantage.

Realization of Nation's Dream.

"It must not be forgotten that while no sacrifice has been asked of Greece to which her international obligations do not already impel her, the realization of the dream which sleeps in the heart of every true Greek has been held out to her without conditions. For centuries the Greeks have wanted two things: A free and united Greece and freedom for Greeks wherever they might be. The former we have gained with blood, heroism and sacrifice extending over thirty centuries. The latter, in a larger degree than we could hope to achieve unaided for centuries to come, perhaps, is suddenly made possible to us.

"Who thinks what it would mean to Greece that those of our blood on the opposite shore may one day soon come under our flag, cannot be indifferent to the realization of a greater Greece, for which we are asked to pay nothing save the keeping of our pledged word to which our honor binds us in any case. This is the position of Greece to-day, which I am more than glad to make clear to America because I have just been approached by William Hamilton, of New York, with a most generous offer of assistance for Greek refugees on behalf of the American mercy and relief committee. I scarcely know how to express the profound gratitude which I am convinced each of my countrymen will feel over this new evidence of the great heart of America.

Thanks to Americans.

"The Greek government is doing all it can to help more than 300,000 homeless refugees from Asia Minor, Macedonia and Thrace. Seventy thousand now are in Mytilene, 22,000 in Chios, over 50,000 in Saloniki and the remainder scattered over Macedonia, all in direct want, especially of clothing. The government is able to keep them from actual starvation, but an expense of 3,000,000 francs ($600,000) a month is very heavy for a small country. That help should be offered from America at this juncture is a source of most sincere joy to me.

"For don't forget that I am a Cretan. I remember the war for the liberty of Crete and the puissant aid and generosity of America in 1906. No Greek, certainly no Cretan, could ever forget whatever the destinies of Greece may be in the way upon which she is now embarked, her debt to America is and will be unpayable."

Nature Warns

AGAINST USING CALOMEL.

The sickening, nauseating feeling that follows the use of calomel is the natural result of disarranging your entire system. Doctors everywhere are agreeing that the action of calomel is much too strong, and leaves the body sick and weakened.

LIV-VER-LAX is a wonderful substitute for calomel that has all of its good effects and none of its bad ones. It acts soothingly, but thoroughly, on the liver, cleansing it of bile, and ridding the entire system of stagnating poisons.

LIV-VER-LAX is strictly a harmless vegetable compound, and is guaranteed to give satisfaction or your money will be returned. Insist on the original, bearing the likeness and signature of L. K. Grigsby. For sale here at 50c, and $1 at Norman's Drug Store.—Adv.

Two Hurt in Explosion.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 6.—The torpedo boat destroyer Cummings, on board of which two men were burned by an explosion and fire at sea yesterday, arrived here early to-day. The men, George Trullio, a first-class fireman, and Thomas Shea, a water tender, were taken to the naval hospital, where it was said they will recover. The destroyer was only slightly damaged.

The two men were in the fire room, when the explosion occurred in a quantity of fuel oil. The fire was quickly subdued.

Lieut. J. C. Fremont, in command, ordered the vessel to put back at full speed to this port.

One is Dead.

Newport, R. I., Oct. 6.—First class Fireman George Trullio, who was severely burned in a explosion of oil on the torpedo boat destroyer Cummings yesterday, died this afternoon in the naval hospital.

Borrowed $700,000.

(The State, Oct. 8.)

Announcement was made last night by S. T. Carter, State Treasurer, that $100,000 had been borrowed yesterday to meet the State government expenses. The loan was made by the Palmetto National Bank, the rate of interest being placed at 2.44 per cent. It is estimated that this amount will carry the State government until about November 10th, when payment of taxes is expected to meet the State's obligations. The total amount borrowed this year is $700,000.

A Clogged System Needs Attention.

Are you bilious, dizzy and listless? Dr. King's New Life Pills taken at once seize upon constipation and starts the bowels moving naturally and easily. Moreover, it acts without gripping. Neglect of a clogged system often leads to most serious complications. Poisonous matters and a body poorly functioning need immediate attention. If you wish to wake up to-morrow morning happy in mind and entirely satisfied, start your treatment to-night. 25c. a bottle.—Adv. 2.

Sick Women Attention

Is it possible there is a woman in this country who continues to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial after all the evidence that is continually being published, which proves beyond contradiction that this grand old medicine has relieved more suffering among women than any other one medicine in the world?

We have published in the newspapers of the United States more genuine testimonial letters than have ever been published in the interest of any other medicine for women—and every year we publish many new testimonials, all genuine and true. Here are three never before published:

From Mrs. S. T. Richmond, Providence, R. I.

PROVIDENCE, R. I.—"For the benefit of women who suffer as I have done I wish to state what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I did some heavy lifting and the doctor said it caused a displacement. I have always been weak and I overworked after my baby was born and inflammation set in, then nervous prostration, from which I did not recover until I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The Compound is my best friend and when I hear of a woman with troubles like mine I try to induce her to take your medicine."—Mrs. S. T. RICHMOND, 84 Progress Avenue, Providence, R. I.

From Mrs. Maria Irwin, Peru, N.Y.

PERU, N.Y.—"Before I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I was very irregular and had much pain. I had lost three children, and felt worn out all the time. This splendid medicine helped me as nothing else had done, and I am thankful every day that I took it."—Mrs. MARIA IRWIN, R.F.D. 1, Peru, N.Y.

From Mrs. Jane D. Duncan, W. Quincy, Mass.

SOUTH QUINCY, MASS.—"The doctor said that I had organic trouble and he doctored me for a long time and I did not get any relief. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised and I tried it and found relief before I had finished the first bottle. I continued taking it all through mid life and am now a strong, healthy woman and earn my own living."—Mrs. JANE D. DUNCAN, Forest Avenue, West Quincy, Mass.
